

From: "Financial Times Briefing" <FT@news-alerts.ft.com> [52.89.235.179]
To: "Barak barak" <Ehbarak1@gmail.com>
Date: 4/12/2016 4:00:26 AM UTC
Subject: In today's FT: Port Talbot could be part nationalised...

FINANCIAL TIMES

Tuesday April 12 2016

UK HOMEPAGE

Port Talbot could be part nationalised

Business secretary says state could co-invest with a buyer 'on commercial terms'

MPs rebel over Norway-style tax reporting

UK politics would become 'a minority sport for pygmies' if everyone had to publish returns

Push to oust Brazil's Dilma clears hurdle

Congressional committee vote brings president's ouster one step closer

US HOMEPAGE

Alcoa cuts forecasts for global growth

Jobs culled after 15% drop in revenues in first quarter

US faces retaliatory visas to enter EU

Move is retaliation for Washington's documentation rule for some eastern Europeans

Goldman pays $5.1bn over securities case

Finalised settlement includes new details of bank misbehaviour

EUROPE HOMEPAGE

Groysman bid for Ukraine premiership on the edge

Row over cabinet appointments believed to have triggered crisis

US calls for more aggressive IMF policing

Low pushes for more naming and shaming of currency manipulators

Italy agrees €5bn fund to rescue lenders

Move by banks, insurers and asset managers aims to calm investor concern about sector's stability

ASIA HOMEPAGE

Japanese bourses lead Asia gains

Nikkei and Topix advance as yen retreats but China markets buck the trend

Fed and oil set pace for emerging markets

US central bank is the conductor that will set the tempo for emerging markets this quarter

Tesla in recall of 2,700 Model X vehicles

Seat strength test uncovers potential problem in back of car

MARKETS

Markets start week on cautiously positive note

Yen hits 17-month high and traders eye earnings season

NOV shares slide amid dividend cut setback

US stocks decline on sell-off in last hour of trading

Puerto Rico sweetens debt proposals

Island races to secure deal on $50bn burden amid default fears

Average yield across German government bonds falls to zero

Decline follows rate cuts and asset purchases from the European Central Bank

Yen strength is scary on many levels

If the yen market were a horror movie, the discordant music to signal a growing danger would be playing

WORLD NEWS

What's in a name: the return of British Steel

'Heritage name' makes a comeback — along with the promise of part-nationalisation

Veteran eyes victory in Peru's presidential run-off

Pedro Pablo Kuczynski at 77 hopes his economic record and experience will sway voters

Paris and Berlin call for global tax-haven blacklist

Tough response to Panama Papers leak aimed at territories breaching transparency rules

Italy bank rescue plan watched closely in Brussels

Vital goal for Rome is to sidestep rules attaching tough conditions for public backing

John Kerry makes historic visit to Hiroshima

US secretary of state's gesture of reconciliation may lay the ground for a trip by Obama

COMPANIES NEWS

Why does Jack Ma want to own a newspaper?

Buying South China Morning Post makes him a target for critics

Accel raises $500m fund to back European tech start-ups

Venture capital firm among leading investors in continent's digital companies

Tough Mudder targets Asia and Middle East with IMG partnership

Sports marketing group to help take extreme obstacle courses into emerging markets

Technology companies raise $1bn to challenge banks

Traditional lenders must learn how to collaborate with newcomers, says report

Industry presses EU to rethink views over Three-O2 deal

Industry executives and analysts argue the sector is in dire need of consolidation

COMMENT

The pernicious effects of low interest rates

From Bill Bailey, Ballineen, Co Cork, Ireland

Rights would be at risk in a post-Brexit workplace

From Frances O'Grady, General Secretary, TUC

The laugh's on you, Jeremy — the French love a sexy English accent

From Tom Brown, London SW5, UK

So now we know the truth about British weather

From Stéphane Magnan, Issy, France

Upsurge of consciousness in Hong Kong's youngsters

From Frankie Leung, Los Angeles, CA, US

MANAGEMENT

From luxury to Ikea — design with a human touch

Studiollse connects business to people, one airport lounge at a time

Zinfandel's Restaurant, Zagreb

Indulge in tradition at the grand Esplanade hotel and take sparkling wine at your breakfast meeting

Intel's Andy Grove and the difference between good and bad fear

The late CEO loved a shouting match but staff knew they could speak up, writes Herminia Ibarra

How not to deal with a PR crisis like Mossack Fonseca

Panama Papers law firm shows what not to do when your company is thrust into the spotlight

Feedback

Manage portfolio

Subscribe to the FT

Follow the FT

Unsubscribe | My Account | RSS | Privacy Policy | About Us | Help

© THE FINANCIAL TIMES LTD 2016

You have received this email because you have signed up from the NBE preference page.

This email was sent by a company owned by Financial Times Group Limited (FT Group), registered office at Number One Southwark Bridge, London SE1 9HL.

Registered in England and Wales with company number 879531.